It's crucial that people continue to stay home as much as possible because the virus is still in our community

COVID-19 Virus: Still in Our Community

Exposure to COVID-19 is possible whenever you are out in public places like stores, parks, and businesses, or if someone you live with has not followed guidance and returns home after they themselves have been exposed. Continue doing your part by following CDC guidance:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water, scrubbing for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water is not available, use a hand sanitizer with 60% or greater alcohol content to kill the virus.
- Wearing gloves protects you from getting the virus on your hands, but if while wearing those gloves you handle food or touch your face, you can still transfer the virus to your body.
  - If you are wearing gloves to prepare meals, they need to be changed between every meal.
  - If you have worn gloves to visit a public space, dispose of them BEFORE reentering your car or your home.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth as this can transfer the virus from your hands to places where it can get into your body and infect you with COVID-19.
- Clean and disinfect frequently-touched objects and surfaces like doorknobs and handles. This includes shopping baskets and carts.
- Wear a cloth face-covering in public. This protects others from you should you be a carrier of the virus who does not have any symptoms.
- Practice social distancing by staying 6' from others when you must be in public spaces.
- Stay home whenever possible.

STAY HOME.
STAY SAFE. SAVE LIVES.

remains in effect until May 15.
