Calhoun County Courts Move to Phase 3

Due to decreasing virus rates, Calhoun County Courts were approved by the State Court Administrative Office (SCAO) to move into Phase 3 of its reopening. This means that the courts will increase operations to include jury trials, although some access to the courthouse is restricted. With this new guidance is a mandatory face covering policy. All visitors to the courts, as well as employees, are required to wear a face covering in courtrooms and hearing rooms of the Justice Center in Battle Creek.

The Courts will hold the first jury trial in over a year in Probate Court on Monday, June 14. Currently, the courts anticipate unlocking the front doors to the Justice Center and open to all visitors beginning Tuesday, July 6. More updates will be released later in June regarding the court's "full opening."

The courts are allowing employees who wish to be exempt from wearing a face covering to provide proof of their vaccination and then are not required to wear a mask. All visitors (non-employees) must wear a face covering when in the Court areas of the Justice Center, regardless of their vaccination status. Other ongoing COVID-19 protocols include 6-foot social distancing and employees will still be required to complete the Health Screening app prior to entering the building.

Michigan COVID-19 Safety Grant Program for Businesses

As the economy continues to open back up and employers strive to keep their employees, customers, and communities safe from COVID-19, the State of Michigan has launched another round of funding for the Michigan COVID-19 Safety Grant Program. These grants will provide small businesses, including eligible childcare centers, matching funds of up to $10,000 to decrease the risk of COVID-19 spread through safety and health-related equipment purchased and training.

"Employers need to remain vigilant to ensure workers, customers and communities are safe from COVID-19," said Sean Egan, Michigan COVID-19 workplace safety director. "We've seen success with an earlier round of funding and are confident the additional financial support will help keep Michiganders safe."

The grant period ends Friday, June 18, 2021. Grants are awarded until grant funding is expended. Complete the Michigan COVID-19 Safety Grant application at Michigan.gov/COVIDWorkplaceSafety
